A Read the text about pets.

Man's best friend

The British are a nation of animal lovers. Most people in Britain will at some time or another have a pet. If there are children in the house, they will definitely want to have a dog, a cat, a rabbit or some other pet such as a guinea pig, goldfish or hamster. At Christmas time the pet shops are very busy selling baby dogs and cats (puppies and kittens) but sadly, children will often only play with them for a couple of weeks and then get bored.

But a pet is not just for Christmas, it's for life. If you have a large dog, for example, you must be sure to take it out at least three times a day as it needs a lot of exercise. You should feed it properly and take it to the vet regularly. If you look after your dog properly, your dog will look after you. They say that a dog is man's best friend and in many cases it's true.

Cats, on the other hand, are more independent and not so friendly. Some are lazy and just sleep inside all day but there are others who like being outside. They will go to anyone who feeds them, so if your neighbour puts food or milk outside for them, you shouldn't be surprised if you don't see your cat from one day to the next!

So, if you decide to buy an animal, you must be sure that you are going to have enough time and money to look after it properly.

B Answer the questions. Use complete sentences.

- 1 Which animals do children usually want to have?
.....
- 2 When do the pet shops get busy?
.....
- 3 What often happens after Christmas?
.....
- 4 How many times a day should you exercise a large dog?
